2018 Nationals Special

From the Editor

This year's IPMS nationals were held as part of the annual Armistice weekend show at Lake Karapiro. There were a few Auckland members, including myself went down for the weekend while some attended one of the days. Modellers came from all over New Zealand from as far away as South Otago to participate in the event. The get together dinner on Saturday night was well attended and very enjoyable. Combining the nationals with the larger Armistice event added to the interest of the weekend and ensured that there was plenty to see with something for all tastes.
